

Formatting for Galaxy Clash Simulations

1. Title Formatting

- Use bold and large titles to grab attention.
- Example:

Galaxy Clash Simulation: Hoth - Echo Base Ruins

2. Battlefield Introduction

- Begin with a bold subsection heading to separate the battlefield setup.
- Describe the battlefield in a descriptive, immersive paragraph.
- Example:

Battlefield: Hoth - Echo Base Ruins

A frozen wasteland with brutal windstorms. The battlefield is littered with remnants of snow-covered trenches, destroyed turrets, and the skeletal remains of an AT-AT. Visibility is challenging, forcing teams to rely on strategy and proximity.

3. Team Introductions

- List team names in bold, followed by a bulleted list of units and their costs.
- Use italics for additional notes (e.g., injuries or synergies).
- Example:

Team Iceborn Reavers ($30 Budget)

- Mother Talzin ($10)
- Grand Admiral Thrawn ($5)
- Note: Talzin's resurrection abilities may provide critical late-game support.

4. Pre-Battle Analysis

- Use bold headings to separate analysis sections for each team.
- Write in concise, easy-to-follow paragraphs.
- Example:

Pre-Battle Analysis:

- Strengths: Darth Vader's durability and leadership will anchor the team.
- Weaknesses: The reliance on weaker droids could prove costly in prolonged engagements.

5. Round-by-Round Formatting

- Label each round with a bold title.
- Separate descriptive paragraphs with key moments in bullet points to emphasize dramatic events.
- Use italics for thoughts or specific dramatic descriptions.
- Example:

Round 1: The Cold Embrace

- Darth Vader crushes Marchion Ro's weapon using the Force, but Palpatine counters with a lightning storm, the snow sizzling under the dark energy.
- Starkiller crushes an entire squad of droids under a wall of debris.

6. Losses and Survivors Summary

- Use bold headings to mark losses for each team after each round.
- Present losses and survivors in bullet lists for clarity.
- Example:

Round 1 Outcome:

- Team Iceborn Reavers:
  - Losses: 12 B1 Battle Droids, 2 Magna Guards.
  - Survivors: Darth Vader, Thrawn, 8 B1 Battle Droids.

7. Final Round: Epic Conclusion

- Make this section more detailed, with longer paragraphs and cinematic descriptions.
- Highlight emotional or high-stakes moments with italics or dramatic phrasing.
- Example:
Starkiller, a blur of rage and power, decapitates Thrawn in a single strike, his cold, calculating gaze meeting the snow before vanishing forever.

8. Final Outcome and Winner Declaration

- Use bold headings to announce the winner.
- Summarize the results with bulleted highlights and a final paragraph reflecting on the battle.
- Example:

Winner: Team Frostfire Sentinels

- Starkiller stands victorious, though heavily injured, his lightsaber flickering in the frozen wind.
